

Have coffee with a cop Friday

Tuesday, June 18, 2013

Citizens can get to know their Mt. Juliet Police Officers a little better Friday, as Police Chief James Hambrick and other officers will meet with the public for a cup of coffee.

The event is called Coffee With a Cop and will start at 7 a.m. the Chick-Fil-A in Providence.

It will end around 9 a.m. The coffee will be free and provided by Chick-Fil-A Citizens will allow the public to interact with the officers, including the Chief of Police, to address concerns over local law enforcement. People can just stop by and say hello, exchange ideas or ask questions of the officers.

Everyone in the Mt. Juliet community is welcome to attend.
