A LIFE IN EDUCATION
HONORED

Shiloh Music’s Karen Hedges inducted into Steinway Teacher Hall of Fame

For 46 years, Shiloh Music’s Karen Hedges has been teaching the music lovers of Mt. Juliet how to reach their goals on the piano. Some have gone on to be teachers in their own right, a few at Shiloh Music, but in other schools as well. Some have become band directors at local schools. Some are now bringing their children to Hedges. All of them, hopefully, had fun along the way and became their best because of her teaching.

Now, Steinway & Sons, the prominent name in pianos, has inducted her, along with 43 other teachers across the United States, into their Teacher Hall of Fame.

“I was speechless,” said Hedges. “It’s a huge honor.”

Hedges was nominated for induction by Steinway Piano Gallery Nashville. In a letter they stated the respect that Hedges has among not only the students that she has taught, but also the teaching community in the Nashville area.

“With her professionalism, her passion for music and her commitment to her students, Karen Hedges is truly deserving of this prestigious honor,” the letter stated.

“Karen was inducted into the Hall of Fame in New York for her 46 years of teaching in the Mt. Juliet community.”

Commission appoints new school board member

By Kenny Howell
Managing Editor

The Wilson County Commission made three appointments Monday, including the new Zone 3 School Board member.

Melissa Lynn was appointed as the Zone 3 School Board member. She is a long-time educator in the Wilson County School District, most recently as a teacher at Rutland Elementary School. She is recently retired. She will replace Jon White, who resigned from the Board in September.

MJPD recover stolen vehicle

Sunday, Mt. Juliet Police Department apprehended a man who was driving a stolen 2016 Chevrolet Traverse out of Florence, Ky. A camper was attached to the SUV and it was determined to be stolen the same day at Music Valley Drive in Nashville. The adult male crashed the vehicle into a tree line on Golden Bear Gateway and escaped into the woods. He was apprehended after a short search. MJPD were alerted to the vehicle by MJ Guardian Shield.

FAITH & MESSAGE

Headlines Don’t Tell the Story

We are all a bit cranky these days, emerging as we have this year from a most unusual 2020, cooped up inside our homes, mourning the loss of so many good friends to an insidious virus, and wrestling with the tumult of a very divisive year.

If we are not careful, Green Hill Church might assume that everything, everywhere, is the worst. We might think this if our view of the world, of our wonderful spot on this earth we call Mt. Juliet, if all we know about our community and our world is what we read in headlines and social media posts. But I am encouraged.

Real life is churches working to help schools get ready for another school year, painting, backpack drives, organizing meals. Real life is pastors across traditions working together to find ways to alleviate pockets of suffering. Real is ordinary people with no big platforms and few resources helping a sick neighbor, caring for a widow, tutoring a child.

Big media giants and social media companies have perverse incentives to keeping us hooked on the awfulness. And to be sure, we don’t want to stick our heads in the sand and pretend evil and injustice are not happening in the world. We don’t want to ignore issues in our own families and communities and neighborhoods. And yet we don’t have to make bad news the only news we hear. We should remember that faithfulness, warm-hearted neighborliness, and friendships don’t make catchy headlines or compelling copy.

So let’s stay tuned into what’s happening, but not in a way that keeps us tuned out to the goodness around us. As a Christian pastor, I have a category for thinking this way. Our story, beginning in Genesis, tells us that the world is both good and bad, fruitful, and fallen. It tells us humans have capacity for great good and great evil. It also tells us that there is one who triumphed over evil, who defeated the poison that works its way into human hearts and has made the world hard for so many. You may be reading this and not be someone who has thought much about Jesus, but I’d love for you to consider him, to have a conversation with him, to have a conversation with Jesus and to let the love of Jesus work its way back through us to our neighbors.

If your attitude is in the right place, you can do anything you set your heart and mind to.

Be an Inspirer

McCarver named VWCH President

Staff Reports

Scott McCarver, MHA, Interim President for Vanderbilt Wilson County Hospital, has been named as the hospital’s new President. His appointment was effective Oct. 1.

Prior to serving as Interim President since April, he was the hospital’s Chief Operating Officer.

“I’m delighted to welcome Scott into this role on a permanent basis. He has performed ably as interim leader, continuing to advance the hospital’s important mission to serve the community,” said C. Wright Pinson, MBA, MD, Deputy CEO and Chief Health System Officer for Vanderbilt University Medical Center.

“I look forward to working closely with him as we advance the integration of services and alignment of goals between all of VUMC and VWCH.”

VUMC assumed ownership of VWCH in August 2019 and continues to invest in the hospital and its people to ensure its continued growth and success. In 2020, the hospital received a multi-million-dollar upgrade for its electronic health record system to convert to Epic Systems.

Investments at VWCH include LifeFlight critical care ambulances that are dedicated to the facility, Department of Emergency Medicine faculty who staff the hospital’s Emergency Department, and Vanderbilt-Ingram Cancer Center at Wilson County, which is a full-fledged, multidisciplinary clinic equipped with the latest cancer treatment options.

The hospital continues to play a pivotal role in the Wilson County community’s response to COVID-19, having treated more than 1,000 critically ill COVID patients in its intensive care unit. The hospital also assisted the Wilson County Health Department in its efforts to vaccinate community members. In addition to more than 14,000 vaccinations administered onsite at VWCH, staff have traveled to Del Webb at Lake Providence, Mt. Juliet Christian Academy and the Wilson County Jail to administer vaccines to the broader Wilson County community — particularly the vulnerable elderly population and essential workers such as teachers.

“I am excited to continue to lead Vanderbilt Wilson County Hospital working alongside our medical staff, community leaders and all of our employees to bring Vanderbilt patient care closer to home for everyone in Wilson County,” said McCarver.

McCarver has been with VUMC since 2015 and was previously on the leadership team of Vanderbilt University Hospital before joining VWCH in 2020. He joined VUMC as vice president of Operations for Vanderbilt University Hospital in 2015. Prior to Vanderbilt, he was employed by Duke Regional Hospital.

About Vanderbilt Wilson County Hospital

A 245-bed, two campus, acute care facility that is fully accredited by the state of Tennessee and the Joint Commission. In addition, the hospital has received national quality awards including designation as an accredited chest pain center, a stroke center, and a comprehensive weight loss center, sleep center and certified in total hip and knee replacement. In addition to the Vanderbilt-Ingram Cancer Center at Wilson County, Vanderbilt is bringing high quality care closer to home. In FY2021, the hospital admitted over 5,500 patients, performed more than 4,000 surgeries, delivered over 500 babies and had more than 55,000 outpatient visits. Additionally, the Emergency Department received more than 24,000 patients seeking urgent care. With more than 400 physicians and over 600 employees the hospital is one of the community’s largest employers.

and boring. Sometimes you need to step off that wheel to get the necessary fuel to “just keep swimming.” So, I stepped off the wheel for three days and drove four hours for a long overdue visit with friends.

It was easy, just like I remembered. There were no expectations. Different in so many ways, but still connected through the shared experience of growing up in a small southern town. We laughed, ate, talked about hot flashes, and just sat in each other’s company. That’s what friendship in your 40s looks like. You’re not trying to fix each other’s problems. You’re just there to listen.

We talked about how confusing this phase of life is turning out to be. “How can my son be 22?” Up until a few months ago, I was 22!”

While our kids need less of our attention, our parents need more. My friends are feeling that same pang I’ve been feeling since hitting my mid-forties—that pang that begs the question, “What’s next?” Instead of trying to figure out the answer, we opted for a question we could answer. “What’s now?”

If the last 20 months have taught me anything, it’s that you never know what tomorrow brings. Eat the cake, take the trip, say what you need to say, stop and enjoy the moment with your family, do all the things with all the people who mean the most. Somewhere between breastfeeding and menopause, I lost sight of what was worth my energy. And four days with old friends was most certainly worth it.

John Woodall was the only other name nominated in the process, but Lynn won the vote of the County Commissioners. She joked after being chosen that she was missing something very important because she wanted the position so bad.

“This appointment was so important to me, I missed Monday Night Football, Titans vs. Bills,” she joked.

Lynn will serve on the School Board until Aug. 31, 2022. The election will take place on Aug. 4, and whoever wins that race will take office on Sept. 1, 2022.

Richard Brown was the only person nominated to take over the District 2 County Commission seat. District 2 is in the western portion of the county to the county line and includes that portion of Old Lebanon Dirt Road, Division Street and areas immediately surrounding.

Brown will replace Cynthia Bannach, who resigned from her seat when she moved out of the district. Brown will serve until Aug. 31, 2022.

James Lea of Lebanon was chosen to serve as Wilson County General Sessions Division II Judge. He will take over for retiring Judge Haywood Berry on Jan. 1, 2022. His term will run until Aug. 31, 2022. The general election is Aug. 4, 2022.

County Mayor Randall Hutto said him and Lea went to Lebanon High School, and joked Lea was a much better baseball player than him.

“We go back a ways,” said Hutto. “…We have a lot of great memories.”

Lea was excited to take on the new position.

“I am truly honored,” he said after his appointment.

MJCA’s Kameron Curtis tries to break away from DCA’s L.J. Tolbert and Aidan Francis in the Saints’ 53-0 loss Friday. Jamarion Thomas led the way for the Saints with five catches for 77 yards. Ashton Jones led the DCA offense with four rushing touchdowns.
Friendship Homecoming Friday

Friendship Christian will celebrate their Homecoming Friday. The homecoming court will be presented at 6:30 p.m. before the kickoff at 7 p.m. against Lakeview Christian School. Attendants are Freshman Riley Agee, Senior Emily Grace Richerson, Homecoming Queen Casie Leigh Cottrell, Junior Lily Grace Armstrong, and Sophomore Ella Weist.

WILMORE

Wilmore, from PAGE 1 of the CST-100 Starliner. The flight was announced a year ago, but he updated where it stands in a recent press release with Tennessee Tech University. It is hopeful that there will be a launch date of Fall 2022.

“We are working diligently, it’s busy, very busy,” Wilmore told TTU. “Flying in space is really hard, especially when you are flying a brand new spacecraft. This first flight is a test flight just like with an airplane test flight, just more technical.”

Space flight tests are different from airplane test flights, but it has “similar mechanics” and that is what Wilmore and his crew are trained to do. “They will have the ability to manually take over the flight of the Starliner should an issue occur while in space.”

“This is only the sixth vertical launch spacecraft in the history of our nation from a NASA standpoint so to be involved with the first flight of that, it’s exciting.”

Wilmore, who began his career as a United States Navy test pilot who already had two spacecrafts. He piloted the Space Shuttle Atlantis on an 11-day Space Shuttle mission in 2009, to the International Space Station. He also served as part of Expedition 41 to the ISS in 2014.

Before being chosen as a NASA astronaut in 2000, he was a Navy test pilot and took part in the development of the T-45 Goshawk trainer jet.

He was a child of God, faithful husband, and loving father and grandfather. Lucius Edward Agee passed peacefully from this life on Wednesday, Oct. 13. He lived a long, adventurous life. He was 97 years old. He was raised in Smith County and attended schools in Hickman and Gordonsville. He graduated from East High School in Nashville and was soon drafted in 1943.

Lucius joined the Navy and served as an aviation radioman, flying in Avenger class dive bomber planes off the aircraft carrier, “BonHomme Richard.” After WWII he attended and graduated from George Peabody College. He would teach school in Missouri and then would work at Wright Industries as chief design engineer for 16 years. During this time, he would serve as president of The American Society of Tool and Manufacturing Engineers (SME).

In the 1970s he began a construction company and was a general contractor, specializing in design and build of commercial buildings. He also designed and built an apartment complex. In the 1980’s he started a tool and die shop which continues to operate today. He was a master woodworker and artist, and author of two published books. Lucius loved making beautiful pieces of wooden furniture to share with friends and family, and he also enjoyed drawing and painting amazing art pieces.

He was preceded in death by his beautiful wife of 71 years, Lucy Aline Agee; mother, Mattie Hickey Agee; father, Arthur T. Agee; son, Gregory L. Agee; sister, Francis Haley; and brother, Howard Agee. He is survived by his daughter, Judy James (Joe); sons, Jerry Agee (Julie) and Steve Agee (Renee); brother, Marvin Agee; Grandchildren, April Hulett (Brandon), Crystal Tingle (Nathan), Mike Agee, Tim Agee, Angela Agee (Nick), and Elissa Woodard; great-grandchildren, Lily Hulett, Mary Hulett, Olivia Tingle, and Elyse Tingle.

The Funeral Service was Tuesday, Oct. 19 at Sellars Funeral Home at Mt. Juliet. Interment followed the service at Baird Cemetery in Hickman.

The Visitation was Monday, Oct. 18 and Tuesday, Oct. 19.

We speak Medicare.

Medicare “Open Enrollment” is coming up. How do I know if I should change plans or not?

By October 1 of each year, you should receive your ANOC, Annual Notice of Change, for your Medicare Advantage Plan or your Medicare Part D Prescription Drug Plan. It should easily explain any changes that your plan will make for the next year. If you are ok with those changes and do not wish to look at any of the new plan options for the next year, then you have nothing that you need to do to stay where you currently are enrolled.

If you would like to make a change, you have until December 7th to do so. If you would like to compare your current plan with any of the new plans that are coming for 2019 or compare your current drug plan to see if you are getting the best benefit for your exact set of drugs, call our office and make an appointment with one of our licensed agents. There is no obligation and never any cost associated or owed to an agent to compare or help you enroll into another plan. We are very honest with you and will tell you if you need to stay where you are or if it may be best for you to make a change.

We represent every plan in our state and are happy to help you understand all of your options. Our annual open house is October 13 - 16 from 10 - 5 each day and will have great food, fun give-aways and all of the Medicare information you could ever want to take home with you. Hope to see you then!

My coping around my pool is cracked and pulling away from my concrete deck. Is there anything I can do about my situation?

Of course. The best solution is to cut back into your concrete approximately 1 foot, remove your original coping, attach a new receiver for your liner and add a stone or travertine coping. The ideal time to do this renovation is when you replace your existing liner. Contact your pool service provider or someone who specializes in this type of work for further information.

As always, feel free to email us your questions for a personal response! Send those to davidwcowan@poolkrafters.com

My dentist said I have to lose all my baby teeth before you start my braces. Is that true?

It is possible. There is an optimum time to start orthodontic treatment depending on your individual problems and your stage of growth. That is why I offer a complimentary consultation to evaluate you or your dentist’s concerns. This way I can determine if we should begin treatment now or wait. If it is best to start your treatment later, I put my patients on our growth recall program until it is the right time to start. This way I can monitor all the important orthodontic issues and start treatment at the right time so that you will have the perfect bite and smile when we finish.
