Mt. Juliet residents stand take stand against housing projects

Commission re-approves Gladeville middle school bonds

Almost white Christmas

World War II veteran remembers Pearl Harbor 75 years later
Residents neighboring Park Glen Drive and Park Knoll Lane appeared be- fore the commission op- posing the matter in re- gard to traffic concerns and flooding possibilities due to the site being di- rectly affected by Cedar Creek. Parents residing in the directly affected neigh- borhoods of the proposed site explained their con- cerns in regards to the area not able to with- stand any more traffic and being overpopulated. The schools are already over populated and enrollment continues to increase. The neighbor- ing community cannot af- ford to take on any more than it already has,” stat- ed one of many Mt. Juliet residents opposing the projects.

One claimed that the middle school buses are having to pick up high school students due to being over capacity. “Adding even more developments in the proposed area would in- crease traffic even more and cause concerns to neighborhood children’s safety.”

Mt. Juliet residents firmly stood their grounds against the projects op- posing the housing devel- opments. Members of the Plan- ning Commission voted in a negative recommen- dation back to the city’s Board of Commissioners regarding the two topics.
Wilson Central students raise $15,000 in wildfire donations

Wilson Central high school students also collected an additional $870 in two minutes at their game on Tuesday night.

Along with the school’s basketball teams, Wilson Central high school students also collected an additional $800 Wednesday morning.

The Wilson Central Wildcat basketball teams collected an additional $870 in two minutes at their game on Tuesday night.

This is a story that hits home to a lot of us,” said Wilson Central basketball Physical, Chip Bevils. “The donated money is going to be put into an account within the school that is dedicated to helping the students and families within that school body that have been directly affected by the fire.”

What is that in your hand?

Moses was attempting to communicate to God—approaching the children of Israel and Pharaoh on his way to deliver them. Moses had to get Pharaoh to believe in God, and he had to communicate that whatever gift or talent you are or are not. God used to set His people on a path that a quiver full of children would make. We are convinced they are sure-footed because God is the Father of our redemption. Let's use our words with children...as well as animals...in the field then to train and direct the lives of little ones to follow the footsteps of the master and be productive citizens of both this world and the one we will enter in the kingdom of God. If you are a father in a seemingly mundane vocation and you wonder what impact you might have on your family, you can deem a person inadequate for the task because your family is the foundation which we live, but also in the kingdom of God.
