Sweet Biscuit Co. now open bringing unique style to Mt. Juliet

By Parker Minor
Managing Editor

There’s a new hot-spot along the theme of Mt. Juliet eating. Sweet Biscuit Co. is located right off of North Mt. Juliet Road at the address, 204 N. Mt. Juliet Rd.

Owner, Shannon Gray, works hard and non-stop in the kitchen every day (6 a.m. - 1 p.m.) and Saturday (7 a.m. - 1 b.m.). The southern style eatery also offers homemade buttermilk biscuits with gravy, unlike traditional gravy, which has cream cheese and peppers. The hash-brown casserole is unforgetable. The hash-brown casserole is unforgetable.

After months of discussion and debate, it was announced that Boyle Investments Company has finally agreed to install an access road and entrance in the backyard of its retail property, which holds future home to Starbucks, Moe’s Southwest Grill, China One, Supercuts, and current eatery Edible Arrangements.

The public access will connect the city’s entrance with the retail center strip site, which holds future home to Starbucks, Moe’s Southwest Grill, China One, Supercuts, and current eatery Edible Arrangements.

The current eatery Edible Arrangements is planned to continue its construction of these restaurants and retail spaces after the stop work order is lifted. The bridge could take up to 3 months or more to construct and put into place, while Starbucks and Moe’s could take 4 to 7 weeks to finish its construction before opening for business

John Jankowich announces candidacy for Wilson County School Board, Zone 1

Jankowich for- mally announces that he is a candidate for elec- tion to the Wilson Coun- ty School Board, Zone 1. John is a Director of Retail Merchandising – Senior Buyer, for Crack- er Barrel Old Country Store Inc., Lebanon TN. He graduated from Penn State University in 1988, with a degree in Tele- communications. John and his wife Audrey have been married for 27 years, and they have lived in Mt. Juliet for the past 13 years. They have two daughters, Katherine and Elizabith. Katherine is a recent graduate of Tennessee Tech Uni- versity, and Elizabeth will be a senior at The University of Tennessee – Knoxville, this coming Fall. John and his family- ly are active members of Providence United Meth- odist Church in Mt. Ju- liet.

John is running for election, because he tru- ly believes that Mt. Ju- liet needs a new voice booking records. Wilson Central High School has now released the schedule of statutory rape.

Residents of Prov- ence and citizens of Mt. Juliet couldn’t imagine how congested traffic South Mt. Juliet Road and other retail construction to continue after lift of stop-work-order

The City of Mt. Juliet plans to lift the stop-work-order on Boyle Investments Company’s development that is home to future retail and restaurants such as Starbucks on South Mt. Juliet Road, pending guidelines are followed.

The Oak Ridge Boys

Every time they step before an audience, the Oak Ridge Boys bring four decades of charted singles, and 50 years of tradition, to a stage show widely acknowledged as one of the most exciting anywhere. The group has scored 12 gold, three platinum, and one double platinum album – plus one double platinum single – and had more than a dozen national Number One singles and over 30 Top Ten hits.

The last night of the concert series will feature The Blues Brothers, a lovable and nostalgic band with a huge fan base, taking the stage Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m.

What started as a four-piece group in 1965 who got together to just play music for fun and let off steam has grown into a classic 10-piece soul band with a full horn section and some awesome vocalists.

Audiences will probably know the words to every song The Blues Brothers play, and they can sit back and enjoy or kick off their shoes and dance the night away. Either way, you’ll enjoy the sounds of the soul era as they were recorded by the original artists. Community Service Deadline tnAchieves, the partnering organization that administers Tennessee Promise in 85 counties, seeks to promote the August 1, 2016 deadline for students wishing to remain TN Promise eligible.

TN Promise is a last-dollar community and technical college scholarship that provides students with up to 5 semesters (8 trimesters) of suggested events/or- ganizations.

We want our students to cultivate a culture of giving back that remains with them throughout their life," says Krissy Dodajordan, Executive Director, tnAchieves. "While critical to remain- ing TN Promise eligible, this provides students with the opportunity to pursue their passions and/or explore potential career paths.

It is important to note that this deadline applies to both the Class of 2016 who recently graduated high school as well as Class of 2015 students who will return for their college sophomore year.

Since the launch of tnAchieves in 2008, students have given back more than 540,000 community service hours.

The Johns Hopkins Reading Partnership is excited to announce that the Reading Apprenticeship Literacy Program will begin this fall.

The Tennessee Alcoholic Beverage Commission announced that it delivered, in less than one week, retail food store licenses to over 50% of grocery stores in the state applying to sell wine by July 1st.

With less than two weeks to go, the ABC has also issued conditional “letters of approval” to nearly 80% of grocery store applicants. Stores holding a conditional “letter of approval” are authorized to accept delivery and stock wine. Grocery stores without a letter of approval are either missing required documentation or were submitted closer to the upcoming rollout. State legislators and industry representatives in previous weeks had expressed concern over the rollout of wine in grocery stores given the unexpected departure of the previous Executive Director just three months before the new law takes effect.

However, as of last week, the commission had received 499 applications, sent 398 letters of approval, and delivered 279 retail food store licenses. In other words, 70% of grocery stores holding a letter of approval have received a license in hand as of today, which is issued, effective, and post-dated to the date of July 1st. These stores will be authorized to sell wine effective 8:00 a.m. on July 1st. The ABC expects to deliver additional licenses to the remaining qualified stores in the next two weeks.

“We are so pleased that we have completed all the necessary requirements of the application process, and will have all 72 of our eligible stores licensed and ready to sell wine on July 1st,” said Melissa Eads, Kroger Nashville Division spokesperson. “We are thankful to the ABC and the Tennessee Legislature for their leadership in bringing wine to retail food stores in Tennessee. Wine has been one of the most requested items in our stores for years, so we know our customers are looking forward to this as well.”

On May 24th, the Commissioners of the ABC appointed Clayton Byrd to serve as its Executive Director. “The staff at the ABC is working tirelessly to process applications, communicate with applicants, conduct site inspections, and verify statutory compliance with documentation.” Byrd said. “I’m committed to the success of this rollout and I’m proud of our team. This commission will continue to work diligently with the industry and in a business friendly manner to ensure continued success.”
