The Chronicle welcomes Wilson Living Magazine

Boomtown Mt. Juliet booming with business

For more than eight years, Wilson Living magazine has been telling stories that highlight the good life in Wilson County.

This week, Co-Founders Angel Kane and Becky Andrews will expand their coverage to an even larger audience with distribution into The Chronicle of Mt. Julie.

Since 2008, the bi-monthly lifestyle magazine has been distributed throughout Wilson County. In 2013, they began regular distribution in Smith County's hometown newspaper, The Carthage Courier.

In addition to The Chronicle of Mt. Juliet, The Carthage Courants and Wilson Living subscribers, copies of the latest issue can be found at various newstands and dealer locations in Lebanon and Watertown.

To subscribe, email info@wilsonlivingmagazine.com.

Angel Kane and Becky Andrews share in the excitement of the magazine’s appearance.

7th Annual Holiday issue due to hit stands on Wednesday, November 2, we recall this week that the experience has been a “fantastic voyage.”

And we are often asked how the magazine came to be. Our answer is always the same, a little luck, lots of friends and a good bit of hard work.”

Kane, who was a employee of the smoothie King, is coming to Wilson working with Wdba Wilson Living, as a full-time practicing attorney in Lebanon, Rt.

She said the idea of a lifestyle magazine first “sprung to life” one afternoon when she was waiting to return to her office in Memphis.

The “Land Between the Lakes” in a growing community with much potential that many retailers and restaurant franchises are taking advantage of.

Manager, Tony Martin, said, “We are excited for the plans that have been submitted to the city’s planning commission that have been successful so far. We are very pleased in this in Mt. Juliet.

The City Center’s unique name due to its location in the center of town.

The 40,000-square-foot retail strip being constructed holds (cur- rently operating) CrossFit-MtJ, and future comm- itted businesses such as: WorkWise, Guns & Ammo, Sweet Cici’s, B.B.Q. White House, Smart Creations, Smoke Fusion-Q, and a upcoming local gourmet meat & cheese market.

Rocky Williams, Chucksy, Jeep future lo- cation is more than 50% complete in the Pad- docks Shopping Center, located off of Pleasant Grove Road.

Another future develop- ment to be completed in the same shopping center behind Longhorn Steakhouse is the upcoming Culver’s restaur- ant franchise which will be co-owned and operat- ed by successful football coach, Eric Johnson.

Culver’s, Krystal, & Dairy Queen’s Grill & Chill are underway and part of Mt. Juliet’s booming restaurant businesses.

The school district in Wilson County is bud- geted to receive an annual average of 2.0 mil- lion from the Wilson County property tax rate increase.

The Wilson County Commission voted and approved a tax rate increase of 35.17 on Wil- son County at the board meeting last Monday evening in Lebanon.

Up to 1.1% of the tax increased will go to teacher pay. Increases in teacher salaries will go to certified teachers only.

Teachers with (6-9) years of teaching experi- ence and hired within the past two years, regardless of amount of experience, will earn an additional $1,000 on their base pay.

Educators with (6-9) years of experience will receive $1,500 additional- ally to their base pay.

Teachers with (10 or more) years of educa- tional experience will receive an additional $3,000 to their pay.

We continue, as a district, to experience substantial student success and it is simply ap- propriate to reward our teachers for their work in this difficult profession,” said su- perintendent, Wright.

Concerns about administra- tion and educators on fairness of pay has been an issue in the district due to loo- pholes.

When brand new teachers make more of a salary than a veteran teacher with years of experience, that seems to raise eyebrows over the quality of teachers.

There are many songs that she would sing to part with these special memories for the soul. One such song was performed by Dolly Parton—her coat of many colors. This was a song that was sewn together from small pieces of different colored coats, hats, boots, and other unique pieces of clothing that brought back memories for all to see.

There have been even a song written about how a pair of old Members Only Jackets, this would surely rise right to the top of the charts as blues on this one.

Think about it, the way you could write a song right now about how badly I miss my old Members Only Jackets. This song would now tell a very sad song about a man that was faced with a difficult situation and he ended up being forced to part with their jackets that they would one day very be, it was very very sad for the husband but the wife simply just left.

The song would now carry on. The picture of the various colors of Members Only Jackets this husband and wife had never been rained on.

The song could even be used to part with these special items. The song could tell a very sad story about a coat that was forced to be given away to three Members Only Jackets by his wife.

In the song you could hear and feel the pain of someone that you part with these special items. The song could paint the picture of the various colors of Members Only Jackets this husband and wife had never been rained on.

The one of a kind material that was highly sought after jacket and you, the best of all Members Only Jackets, the brown leather jacket with stretchy material around the cuffs that had never been rained on.

Wilson County candidates and issues set for November 8th

Wilson County Election officials Friday, Thursday, August 18th, at noon, was the filing deadline for candidates seeking election in the 2016 Wilson County election. The deadline fell on the heels of the 2016 Tennessee State Fair and Watertown Municipal elections scheduled for November 8th. Thursday, August 25th was both the withdrawal deadline for candidates and the last day a petition calling for municipal referendums could be filed. The noon deadline for withdrawal passed with no candidates filing to be removed. Two petitions were pulled for seeking local option elections in the City of Watertown for the sale of alcoholic beverages for consumption on the premises.

The Mt. Juliet municipal ballot will include two unopposed City Council candidates in District 1 and 2. The Mt. Juliet Mayor’s seat is also up for grabs with incumbent Larry Byrd facing off with independent candidate Jonathan James. Jim Bradshaw and Ed Hagger will be running for the Sutton City Commission At-Large seat. Three additional candidates are on the ballot in November as well as the Mayor. All the positions on the City Council are unopposed with incumbent Commission member Belinda Holcomb, Tony Lea and Michael J. Kenneally re-running for the Cartmill Scholarships.

The election results of the August 4th, 2016 Republican and Democratic primary candidates in the State and Federal primaries will be certified by the State of Tennessee on September 1st. The winners of those primaries will face each other, along with any independent candidates in the November 8th general election.
